

PUBLIC ENERGY IS LOOKING FOR STORIES OF TRANSFORMATION

(No prior storytelling or performing experience necessary)

Email peytonlebarr@publicenergy.ca by
Monday, September 9th, 2019 by 12pm

- Is there a moment in life when everything changed?
- Did a chance encounter change your life forever?
- Have you risked failure to achieve something important?

Love, loss, health scares, career and family challenges and successes- there are no stories too big or too small. Join us and have your story heard!

Trophy is a performance and art installation that asks 15 Peterborough/Nogojwanong community members to share a story based on the idea "How have you changed."

Audience members explore a cluster of 15 pop-up tents, each one hosted by a person sharing a true story of a turning point in their life. This unique performance experience is transformative both for storytellers and audiences alike.

Trophy is presented as part of in[SITES] Series, a new site-specific performance series presented by Public Energy, Artspace, and the Art Gallery of Peterborough.

How to get involved: contact Peyton at peyton@publicenergy.ca by September 9th, 12pm with a few sentences describing who you are, your story idea, and anything else you would like us to know about you.

Each storyteller will receive an honorarium of $100

Performance Dates: Please ensure you are available October 3rd (evening rehearsal), October 4th 7pm-10pm (Performance), and October 5th 4pm-7pm (Performance)

Stories should be 5 minutes long

What storytelling entails: You'll receive a one-on-one session to help shape your story and then all storytellers will meet as a group on October 3rd for a brief overview and rehearsing of your stories.

What storytelling entails: You'll receive an intro phone meeting and a one-on-one session to help shape your story. Then on October 3rd there will be a group meeting of all storytellers.

Trophy is created by Sarah Conn and Allison O'Connor

VISIT thisistrophy.com FOR MORE DETAILS!

